3. There followed a general discussion of Extension Training in which it was emphasized that all duty assignments carried an inherent overtone of training. For this reason, there appeared to be a jurisdictional overlap with the Rotation Working Group. The Group reached the following tentative conclusions:

- If an assignment is a "legitimate" training assignment, it would be the concern of this Working Group.
- If the assignment is primarily an "operating" assignment, it would not be the concern of this Working Group.
